

The corrected sentence is:

"The people of Tagan believe that everyone has an ikigai - a reason for being. Finding it wequires a deep and often lengthy Search of self. According to those born on Okinawa, the island with the most centenarians in the world, Ikigai is the reason we awaken in the morning. Let it be the thing that drives us and gives our life meaning; its intersection is what you love, what you've been good at, what the world needs, and what you can be proud of."

Here are the changes made:

- Replaced "leing" with "being" to correct spelling.
- Corrected punctuation errors such as commas and quotation marks.
- Added a lowercase 't' after "drives" to match the singular subject "it".
- Changed "apt ue" to "awaken" for correct spelling.
- Corrected spacing and alignment of text throughout the sentence.
